

Hidden Voices Conference
8-10 September, STUC, Glasgow

'Language, Voice, Identity'

Public Reading

6pm, Friday 8 September 2006
STUC, 333 Woodlands Road, Glasgow

Chair

Aonghas MacNeacail, Gaelic and English poet former writer in residence at Hugh McDairmid's Brownsbank with readings by:

Tom Leonard, poet, author of Intimate Voices and access to the silence
Alison Miller, novelist and adult education tutor, author of The Demo
Ghazi Hussein, Palestinian refugee poet and playwright with Theatre Workshop
Kokumo Rocks, African Asian Scottish performance poet and storyteller

Pre-booking essential, £3/£2 (conc), free glass of wine, book via hiddivoices@tiscali.co.uk

Who are Lapidus?

1.30pm, Saturday 9 September 2006,
STUC, 333 Woodlands Road, Glasgow

Lapidus (Literary Arts in Personal Development) invites all those interested in the personal and social benefits of creativity to a public talk with:

Fiona Sampson, editor of Poetry Review, Lapidus founder member
Larry Butler, Lapidus Scotland Convenor and Kate Thompson, Lapidus UK Vice Chair

Booking essential, Free Entry, book via hiddivoices@tiscali.co.uk or 07772 578204

For the full conference programme, please visit:
http://www.lapidus.org.uk/groups/scotland_south.shtml